OXNARD, Calif.—Attorneys and accountants looking for ways to protect their clients from bounty hunter or “Sue Your Boss” laws are invited to attend the next meeting of the East County Chapter of the CPA/Law Society for a presentation entitled “Wage and Hour Update: How Did Unpaid Meal Periods and Other Rules Get So Expensive for Employers?”

Nordman Cormany Hair & Compton LLP attorneys Lou Cappadona and Jonathan Fraser Light, both well known labor and employment lawyers, will lead the discussion. The event will take place from 12-1:30 p.m., Friday, September 14, at the Westlake Village Inn, 31943 Agoura Road, Westlake Village.

Cappadona and Light will provide tips on how to avoid unnecessary liability for improper pay stubs, meal and rest periods, pay periods, and daily and weekly overtime issues as well as the separate rules for exempt employees. Attendees will learn the basics of how to stay in compliance with California’s employment laws and be prepared to help clients and their own firms avoid liability.
